PODPOL06 Values Based Appraisals Policy

1. Policy Introduction and Background:

Values Based Appraisals are an essential part of the overall performance management process. It is a means by which every individual employee's performance is aligned with Service Objectives and our core values. Whilst an appraisal process has been embedded in the organisation through the implementation of the Learning Management System (LMS) the revised process has at its heart a values based approach in line with our commitment to building a values based organisation.

The Values Based Appraisal process is fundamental to the achievement of one of our aims – We will always be the best that we can be. The process is a robust and fair appraisal of an individual's performance as well as a means of setting objectives aligned to our core values and service plans.

The Appraisal process provides a systematic means of both celebrating and reflecting on achievements over previous year, which will help to boost morale and motivation. The Appraisal also helps to create a culture of open communication within a team and will help managers to understand how an individual is performing and how this impacts on the overall team performance. In addition, it is designed to identify appropriate learning and development opportunities to enhance performance as well as creating improvement plans to remedy any performance gaps.

The process achieves the following outcomes:

- Conducting a quality Wellbeing conversation to support individual physical and psychological wellbeing
- Review of performance against values, attitude and behaviour.
- Review of performance against the job role and set objectives
- Reflection on our Colours Profiles
- Communicating performance expectations
- Establishing individual objectives both from the Manager's perspective to ensure delivery of the department plans as well as giving individuals the opportunity to contribute their ideas to the department.
- Enabling and supporting people to achieve results
- Assist people to fulfil their role as well as develop within it and beyond it
- Agree any learning and development needs

Quality Assurance

POD liaise with senior managers to ensure that the process is embedded and is being applied consistently across the Service. Failure to participate in the process will be addressed by Senior Management.

Training will be undertaken with all managers to ensure consistency and to embed robust processes. Evidence to support feedback will be integral to the process.

For training needs identified at staff appraisals POD require a clear business rationale for the request before any training will be approved.

Link to other strategies

The appraisal process ensures that open and frank discussions are held to both recognise and celebrate exemplar behaviour as well as identify measures to maximise and encourage discretionary effort. Performance will be categorised in the following way: -

Grade	Descriptor
Outstanding	Performance consistently exceeded expectations across all elements of the appraisal
Good	Performance exceeded expectations in some areas of the appraisal
Satisfactory	Achieved all areas of the appraisal
Requires Improvement	Performance at present does not meet expectations in some of the areas
Inadequate	Does not demonstrate the knowledge, skills or behaviours that allow them to fulfil their role

Failing to agree.

Both the Line Manager and employee should have an open and honest conversation around performance based on evidence. Guidance documentation provides work examples to illustrate each of the behaviours.

Should a difference of opinion occur either during the discussion or as a result of the written summary, the appraising manager will be expected to take the lead in gaining consensus. Where it is not possible to achieve agreement the individual can utilise existing procedures.

2. Policy Explanation:

Key Principles

- Embeds the Values, Leadership Message and Core code of ethics
- It clearly sets out expectations in an open and transparent manner
- It is a two-way process which encourages individuals to contribute their ideas to service planning
- It complies with all legal frameworks
- It is evidence based to maintain impartiality

3. Policy Implementation:

The appraisal process incorporates all staff up to and including the Chief Fire Officer.

Appraisals should be held once a year in line with service planning with a review process built in within six months.

It is a two-way discussion between the Line Manager and employee which not only enables the manager to discuss work objectives but encourage individuals to develop objectives themselves to actively engage staff in making a difference in their place of work and wider community.
